The Rain at Empire.

The recent rain seems to have struck heaviest at Empire. It was almost a cloud burst and for a while on Sunday Empire was under water. Yesterday morning hailstones were found along the railroad track of very large size and in some places nearly a foot deep. Old Empireites like Judge Lang say that there has been nothing like it since Dutch Nick came to the city.

Now when the buds begin to show, 'Tis time for young and old to know That fever lurks in the blood and all The ill at Indigestion's call, With every trouble, ache or pain, That follows in the Bilious train, Will scatter like the fives of night, Before a draught of SELTZER bright, May 22.

ALL SORTS.

—Wizard Oil at Geo. Thaxter's.
—George Hark has his Summer refrigerator back in the market.

—George M. Smith proprietor of the Genoa Courier was in the city yesterday.

—Mrs. Cowan and Mrs. Fred Turner left the city for Southern California last evening.

—FOR SALE.—A large roomy residence in the Western part of the city. Fine location. Apply at this office.

—Mrs. A. Forster, a sister of Mrs. George Bryson was married to Mr. C. E. Huber in Los Angeles last week.

—Yesterday three men in Louisville, Ky., tied a 12 year old girl to a tree and outraged her. They hunted down and lynched.

—Some of our esteemed contemporaries, as if under bonds to prove how a certain kind of a man and his money are soon parted, have sprung to the fore with special news trains on Sunday. Special trains on Sunday are not as good as special brains the rest of the week.—Alta.

—Countess d'Arco Rodenza Janish, now Antoine Janish, the actress, was confronted by a San Diego lawyer with a writ of attachment at Los Angeles on Saturday, and compelled to take out a life insurance policy and sign a $2,000 annuity for the benefit of the creditor, a Philadelphia lady friend, from whom the Countess had borrowed $8,000. The annuity came to the Countess from her late husband.

—Some of the newspaper editors facetiously enquire when Henry George proposes to make his "community divy" of all the wealth in the world so that each shall have an equal share. The editors say they want to be there and get some of the pie. If this divy were made the editors would not be much better off than now as the amount per capita would only be $3 50 a head for them to start with after the deal.

—At the close of the recent session of the Connecticut Legislature that body, as has been its reprehensible custom, voted to the newspaper reporters sums of money for "special services." William F. Clarke of the New Haven News received $200. The proprietors of the News discharged him upon his refusal to turn the money into the State Treasury, and then sent their own check for $200 to the State Treasurer. This the Treasurer has returned to the paper, saying he has no authority to receive it and that he cannot take it without a special vote of the Legislature.

First Picnic.

The first picnic of the season, that of the public schools of Storey county, which takes place at Bowers' Mansion on Saturday, June 11th, promises to be a grand affair. Following is a list of the prizes:

Baseball—$25 Coin. Open to all clubs.

Football—$15 Coin.

Girls' Race (75 yards; under 15 years)—First prize: Fine chatelaine silver watch, platinum and gold fob ($20), presented by Chatelain & Golden. Second prize: Silver card receiver, gold-lined ($10).

Boys' Race (150 yards; under 16 years)—First prize: Gold quartz scarf pin ($10). Second prize: Gold cameo sleeve buttons ($7 50).

Best Lady Dancer—Fine lady's amber toilet set, plush bracket case, glass setting ($50).

Metal Pigeon Shooting—Silver fruit dish ($20).

The price of tickets, which includes admission to the grounds, is only one dollar.

A Very Sick Man.

The San Francisco correspondent of the Stockton Mail bears that James C. Flood, the millionaire, is a very sick man and that the public may expect to hear of his death any moment. He went some weeks ago to the Paso Robles Springs for his health and he has returned to San Francisco not a bit improved. His nerves are said to be badly shattered. He is said to have lost his grip on business and pleasure alike and has now little care for anything more than a bowl of soup, a careful nurse and a warm room.

Notice.

The ladies of the Episcopal Church will hold a strawberry festival at Armory Hall on the 8th of June.

NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE.

How They Run It at San Francisco.

Since the Chronicle and Examiner began running their fast trains they note the fact something after this fashion.

Bang! Whizz! Zip! Selah!!! It was the Examiner fast train pulling out in the morning for Santa Cruz. The engineer wore a light blue cap and brown necktie as he pulled out.

Think of it! An Examiner to be read in Santa Cruz at 8 o'clock in the morning.

The train sped on, 160 feet a second, 9,600 per minute; figure it up dear reader until the mad brain whirls.

Clank! Rip! Bang! Fizz!! Thus it sped over the steel rails like the fabled god that rode the air.

Sarah Badgley, the San Jose belle, dressed in blue silk, with the front plated four times, cut bias, was there waving her snowy lace handkerchief, and as the New Morn Hay perfume floated to the nostrils of the Examiner staff the words "God bless the Examiner" were heard, and Mr. Hearst opened another basket of champagne.

Roar! Rip! Boom! The train had reached Santa Cruz, and ten thousand citizens rushed pell mell to the train to read the latest news, and give three cheers for the San Francisco Examiner.

About an hour afterwards the old freight car that the Chronicle had chartered came lumbering in, but there was no demand for the paper, as every man, woman and child in the city was still reading the 64 page Examiner, and felt supplied with reading matter for the day.

Next day the Chronicle comes out as follows:

Toot! Toot!! Toot!!! The blast of the big locomotive woke the echoes of the hills long before sun rise. It was the Chronicle's fast train pulling out of the sleeping city at 3:10 en route for Santa Cruz. The train made 63 miles an hour all the way and in some places it waseven faster. Of course there was no demonstration along the route. No one was up. The train sped like an arrow through the darkness and before the sleeping citizens were up a copy of the Chronicle, neatly folded with a red ribbon tied around it, was on the door step of every citizen. Accompanying this stupendous piece of enterprise was a slice of sponge cake and a plate of strawberries and cream.

Over 10,000 copies were distributed. About noon an old caboose came lazily down the road and we understood that it was the Examiner car, carrying a number of college bred journalists. The old train was pulled off yesterday and has not since been heard of. There is but one paper in this city and that is the San Francisco Chronicle.

THE NEW STOCK YARDS.

The First Shipment to be Made Today.

This morning T. B. Rickey will baptize the Carson Stock Yards—by shipping 90 head of steers to San Francisco.

The Stock Yards are now completed, and were rushed through to catch Rickey's shipment. The animals came down from the valley last evening, and were in prime condition, showing just what Nevada's grass and climate can do for beef.

The feeding yards will be pushed to completion as soon as possible. They will be very commodious, capable of accommodating at least a thousand head of stock. There will be barns to store hay, feeding and watering troughs, and connected with the shipping corral will be chutes for the purpose of enabling the cattle to board the cars, and a place for weighing each head of stock. Every detail of the enterprise will be complete and of the most approved plans.

The establishment of these stock Yards in this city will enable cattle owners to get cash for their stock. Farmers will also find there a ready market for hay.

The Yards are situated at the foot of the flume. Mr. Gardner is the Foreman of the yards.

A machine has just been invented which makes soda water at one tenth of a cent a glass. Druggists, of course, are happy in the thought that at last they will be able to make a living profit. At present a glass of soda costs them nearly half a cent.—Ex.

EXPERT MILITIAMEN.

The Prize Winners at the National Drill in Washington.

WASHINGTON June 1st.—The prizes in the National drill were distributed yesterday afternoon, Gen. P. H. Sheridan presenting them to the winners. They were as follows:

Company prizes—First, Lomax Rifles, $5,000; second, Company D, First Minnesota, $2,500; third, Belknap Rifles of Texas, $1,100; fourth, National Rifles of Washington, $1,000; fifth, San Antonio (Texas) Rifles, $500.

Battalion prizes—First, Washington Light Infantry, $3,000; second, Louisville (Ky.) Legion, $1,000.

Light Artillery—First, Indianapolis Light Artillery, $1,500; second, Milwaukee Light Battery, $1,000.

Zouaves—First, Chicago Zouaves, $1,600; second, Memphis Merchants, $750.

Cadets—First, Michigan Military Academy, $1,000; second, Maryland Agricultural College, $750.

Regimental prizes—The First Regiment of Virginia was the only competitor, and a band of colors and silver and bronze medals were awarded to the officers.

Machine guns—First, Battery A, Ohio, silver trophy and $750; second, Battery A, Louisville (Ky.) Legion.

Individual drill—First, private H. G. Stocks, San Antonio Rifles, gold medal and $100; second, First Sergeant C. F. Conrad, Company B, Washington Light Infantry, silver medal and $75; third, First Sergeant J. P. Wagner, Company A, Louisville (Ky.) Legion, bronze medal and $50.

In addition to the list of prizes announced to be awarded by the Board the Executive Committee bestowed upon First Light Battery of Wisconsin a gold medal for proficiency in sabre drill, and a silver medal to the Louisville Legion Drum Corps for proficiency in music and movement.

The Nevada City Sensation.

NEVADA CITY June 1.—Harry Dassonville and his wife were today arrested for the murder of Phil Richards. He is in jail, she being out on $5,000 bail. Captain F. S. Richards, of Grass Valley, the brother to whom the deceased banker made an ante-mortem statement of the crime, is the complaining witness. Dassonville has not yet denied the assault and the expectation is he will set up a defense that Richards invaded the sanctity of his home circle. He indignantly denies that there was any attempt to blackmail Richards. Dassonville has heretofore borne a good reputation for peace and quietness, but his wife has not been held in esteem by the better class of society. The report that James Williams, brother-in-law to Dassonville and originally arrested for complicity in the crime, had attempted to cut his throat, grew out of the fact that he got drunk and threatened to kill himself. The impression prevails that he had no hand in the killing of Richards.

School Matters.

EDITOR APPEAL: The monthly meeting of the Board of School Trustees was held at D. A. Bender's office, present D. A. Bender and Geo. W. Kitzmeyer. The motion to reconsider the vote by which it was agreed to keep the schools open until the 1st of July at a previous meeting was passed, and a motion to close school on the 15th of June adopted.

On account of this arrangement the Principal, Mr. Howe, desires to have it made public that no examination will take place until on the beginning of next term, September 1st, except for the graduating class, which the Principal will put through its regular course the same as other years.

The regular bills allowed for teachers' salary amount to $896 66; for M. A. Bowker, janitor, $60; Miss Schmieder, janitor, $5; Miss Wagner, janitor, $5; Carson Water Co., water rent, $12; total $978 66.

No further business the Board adjourned.

GEO. W. KITZMEYER, Clerk.

The Minstrels.

The minstrels always crowd the Opera House, and tonight there will doubtless be a lively rush, as the troupe contains some of the sweetest singers and instrumentalists in the country. It is a regular good old fashioned show that ought to keep the town in good humor for a week.
